EUROTRANS – AGMA Cooperation:

Webinar “Bridging the Atlantic: Trade Between Europe and the United States”

Frankfurt, 17th September 2025_ On September 17, 2025, the American Gear Manufacturers Association (AGMA, part of the Motion+Power Manufacturers Alliance, (MPMA), USA) and EUROTRANS – the European network of drive technology – successfully hosted a high-level transatlantic webinar focused on trade, tariffs, and supply chain resilience.

This new format proved to be a great success, fostering a deeper mutual understanding of the challenges and opportunities in transatlantic trade between Europe and the United States.

The event brought together C-suite executives from leading power transmission manufacturers on both sides of the Atlantic.

The session opened with a keynote by Nate Bolin, Partner at K&L Gates, who provided an in-depth overview of the current U.S. tariff landscape. This was followed by a European perspective from Alessia Sarasino, Director of International Trade Policy at VDMA America.

The webinar concluded with an open discussion, allowing participants to exchange views, share experiences, and identify potential topics for future collaboration.
